The WARC Awards 2017 – Social Strategy winners revealed

Global, 11 September 2017 – Campaigns for BT Sport, Reese’s, Headspace National Youth Mental Health Foundation, JetBlue and KFC have been awarded Golds in the Social Strategy category of the inaugural WARC awards 2017, a new global competition honouring the effective use of emerging marketing disciplines.

The Social Strategy category, which rewards the best case studies linking social strategy to business success, currently one of the most important issues in marketing and communications, was judged by a 17-strong panel of senior industry experts chaired by Quinn Kilbury, Senior Brand Director, Heineken US. Five Golds, four Silvers and four Bronzes have been awarded.

Of the 13 winning campaigns, three are from Australia, two are global campaigns, two UK and two US, alongside one each from Germany, North America, Singapore and UAE.

Broadcaster BT Sport’s Gold winning entry created BT in house shows how it successfully kicked off its summer programming in the UK with a campaign that recreated famous football moments and asked fans to submit their own.

Commenting on the #GoalsRecreated campaign, jury member Lex Bradshaw-Zinger, Regional Digital Director, MEA, L’Oreal, said: “It was well done with different layers and talked around the content. It was very interesting and really social.”

Reese’s ‘Creating Confusion’ Gold winning campaign by Ketchum shows how the chocolate brand was able to successfully launch its newest product in North America despite a major information leak.

WARC judge Glen Kushner, Senior Strategist, Advanced Analytics, Converseon, said: “This brand had the courage to see where the conversation took them and a lot of brands have a tough time giving up that control.”

Gold winner ‘Reword’ by Leo Burnett Melbourne and Studio Pancho in Australia, shows how Headspace, an Australian youth mental health foundation, successfully tackled cyber bullying by putting in place a social media rewording tool.
David Wilding, Director of Planning, Twitter UK, said: “It was a simple solution to a real, difficult and complex problem. They've done something that makes a tangible difference to the way people behave.”

MullenLowe Boston's campaign ‘FlyBabies’ for airline brand JetBlue, won a Gold for increasing brand awareness and sales in the US by showing flyers and mothers alike that they understand the hardships of a crying baby on a flight.

Judge Mobbie Nazir, Chief Strategy Officer, We Are Social, said: “They turned a negative into a positive and the topicality of it was great.”

Bartle Bogle Hegarty (UK) Gold winning entry 'Dirty Louisiana – don't make dirty good, make clean bad' for the fast food brand, KFC, created a humorous fake 'clean eating' campaign to successfully launch its newest product in the UK.

Rachel Mercer, Vice-President, Head of Digital Strategy, Deutsch NY, said: “Their insight, storytelling and results were impressive. They really nailed the irreverent nature of the brand and I liked how data-driven it was, using the sentiment analysis around clean eating.”
